No complex forms,
No waiting in line,
No hassles.

The only question we ask is where to send the replacement.

Let's face it, products break. More often than not, they break when you least expect them to and after the manufacturer's warranty expires. For most businesses, VoIP hardware represents a major infrastructure expense.

The VoIP Supply go³ warranty program was designed to offer complete protection of this investment. If your equipment fails, malfunctions, or ceases to operate properly for any reason... as a result of manufacturer defect, component failure or user negligence, we'll provide an expedited replacement.

With go³, your hardware purchase is completely covered for a full 3 years from the date of purchase.

Basic Conditions (No Fine Print)

The equipment must have been purchased from us and must be returned within the go³ warranty period. go³ coverage must be purchased at the point of sale, and is not refundable.
